From Travis' Desk

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!!

When I was fresh from law school, I remember my boss, Charlie Ellis, said something that got me thinking. Law offices don't really have that many tangible assets. Office furniture and equipment that depreciates quickly. No, for most lawyers, the greatest asset they have is right between their ears. Paper is about the only widget we sell.

That got me thinking some more about what I could do for you loyal readers of the IRS Tattler this Christmas season. I am still sending out Christmas cards to my friends and clients, so don't worry. But, I wanted to give you something intangible that just might change your year.

So, the first 5 callers to 888-987-5178 will get a FREE 30-MINUTE, no strings attached, 2014 tax coaching call with yours truly. We can talk about anything you want to talk about, whether it be taxes or just general legal questions. This is a great time to ask about last minute 2013 loopholes in the tax code or how to start attacking your tax problem RIGHT NOW, like today!

P.S. I'm also going to spice up the pot a little more for these quick callers. With your permission, I would like to submit a limited IRS power of attorney form for you or your business so that I can pull the IRS transcripts for you and see what cards the IRS is holding on you.

P.P.S. Don't worry, my request for your master tax file doesn't set off any red flags to collection if you've been laying low for awhile. You've got nothing to lose and lots to gain, so give my assistant, Sherri, a call at 888-987-5178 right now and set up our call.

MC Hammer Denies Tax Debt on Twitter

Rap star MC Hammer took to Twitter recently to deny published reports that he now owes the Internal Revenue Service roughly $800,000 in back taxes. "I put over 5 million dollars in my account asked the IRS how much do you want? They put it in writing, I paid them and got a receipt,"

Hammer tweeted. Reports late last week said that the IRS had sued Hammer for $798,033.48, and would be taking all his earnings until the debt was paid. Hammer, who was born Stanley Burrell, has been trying to clear his tax bill for several years since he filed for bankruptcy in 1996. In 2009, the IRS filed three tax liens against him, one of which was for more than $625,000.

Your office did a great job. You were patient, but you made me do my part without being pushy. I'm very satisfied. Great Staff.

Sleep Loss Corner

At the Law Offices of Travis Watkins, we think that every American taxpayer is entitled to 5 nights of sleep free from IRS interference! Here are some facts about the sleep you may have been missing:

1. The record for the longest period without sleep is 18 days, 21 hours, 40 minutes during a rocking chair marathon. The record holder reported hallucinations, paranoia, blurred vision, slurred speech and memory lapses.

2. Anything less than 5 minutes to fall asleep at night means you're sleep deprived. The ideal is between 10 and 15 minutes, meaning you're still tired enough to sleep deeply, (about 6 hrs) but not so exhausted you feel sleepy by day.

3. Seventeen hours of sustained wakefulness leads to a decrease in performance equivalent to a blood alcohol level of 0.05%.

enough to disrupt the sleep cycle even if you do not as much sleep as fully wake. The light turns off a

4. Teenagers need 8-10 hrs (about 10 hrs) while those over 65 need the least of a 1 1 (about 6 hrs). For the average adult 25-55, 8 hrs is considered optimal.

5. Tiny luminous rays from a digital alarm clock can be minutes.

Lawyer Joke of the month

Submitted by B.A. (one of Travis' favorite clients): It's been so cold in Oklahoma lately, I drove by the courthouse and saw some lawyers with their hands in their OWN pockets!

Happy Holidays from Knox and Emma Watkins.

"Honey, our lawyer wishes us, but in no way guarantees, a Merry Christmas."
